2023 Theme - "Christ in You"

Perhaps no other phrase in the New Testament communicates the essence of the Christian life more clearly and succinctly than, "Christ in you, the hope of glory" (Colossians 1:27). Our Christian life and mission are not accomplished by our mere human effort. The very life of Christ pulsates in us and through us by the Holy Spirit who indwells us, giving us the power to live out the Christian life and mission. Terry Smith and Nate Howard will lead us in digging into Colossians, Romans 13:14, and other New Testament passages that will help us more fully understand these transformational truths and come into a deeper experience of the fullness of Christ. Whether you still considering faith in Christ, a new believer in Christ, or you've walked with Him for a long time, He has something new He want to do in you.

"Walking in the Way"—AM Bible Hour

The Great Commission is one of the best-known and most-loved texts in the canon of Scripture. However, there is a phrase that we often breeze past: "teaching them to obey." Many of our lives are filled with learning "who" to obey and "what" to obey, but what does it mean to teach people "how" to obey? The call of Jesus is to become like Him and to do the things He did in the world around us, and the goal of this week in the Word is to help us understand the nature of that call and how to live into it.
